

Bonko Reappears in Veer

Former long-time Virginian-Pilot television and radio reporter Larry Bonko is now a regular contributing writer for Veer Magazine. Bonko will report on local TV and radio.

His debut piece is a preview of a sci-fi movie shot in Hampton Roads.

http://www.veermag.com/index.php?option=com\_content&view=article&id=338:all-hail-atlantis-sci-fi-flick-shot-in-hampton-roads&catid=1:latest-news&Itemid=69

"We are delighted to have yet another veteran Virginian-Pilot castoff writing for Veer," said publisher/editor Jeff Maisey. "For years, loyal readers have enjoyed Mr. Bonko's expert analysis, wit and humor. Now, they can find him in Veer."

Other former Pilot Media writers/designers/correspondents contributing to Veer Magazine include Tom Robotham, Leona Baker, Kristen de den Kirk, Marisa Marsey, Betsy DiJulio, Montague Gammon III, Jim Newsom, Jerome Langston, Chris Jones, Diane Catanzaro, Kathy Keeney and Trudy Landcaster.

Veer Magazine is Hampton Roads' most-read, freely distributed magazine featuring arts, culture, entertainment, food and drink. Veer is published on the 15th of each month and can be found at all area Harris Teeter grocery stores and over 300 individual points of distribution.